Module 2 – Law of Obligations

Am I eligible for the Module 2 exemption test?

If you hold a recognised law degree or can provide a copy of your legal practicing certificate, you will be eligible to take an online exemption test for Module 2.

You will also be eligible to take the online exemption test if you can demonstrate you meet all the following criteria:

- You have a minimum of five years practical experience in the relevant form of ADR;
- You also have substantial knowledge of the same form of ADR;
- You can and evaluate evidence;
- You can significantly evaluate and apply the principles and requirements in the same form of ADR;
- You can noticeably demonstrate practical skill in the carrying out of tasks required in preparing for and progressing of the same form of ADR.

What does the exemption cover?

The test evaluates your current knowledge of Module 2 Law of Obligations; therefore, the content of the test is on the Common and Civil Law of Contract and Tort. If you pass the test, you will be exempt from taking Module 2 training.

Module 2 is the same module across all three Pathways (Arbitration, Adjudication and Mediation) and the exemption test applies to all three.

What does the test consist of?

The exemption test is an online multiple-choice test covering Contract and Tort. You will be required to select the right answer to the questions to achieve the required pass mark. On achieving the pass mark, you will be able to download your certificate of exemption for Module 2.

Do I need to travel for this test?

No. The online exemption test will be made available via the CI Arb online learning platform to candidates who meet the eligibility criteria above.

How much does the exemption test cost?

The exemption test is free for candidates who demonstrate they are eligible per above.

Candidates who are not able to provide proof of either of the above will be required to complete Module 2 training in full.

What is the pass mark?

You must score a minimum of 70% on the test to be eligible for the Module 2 exemption. Candidates are afforded only one opportunity to pass the test.

Where a candidate scores under 70% they will be required to attend and complete the Module 2 training in full to progress through the Pathways (Arbitration, Adjudication and Mediation).

Will there be set dates for the exemption test?

No. It is an open test. Candidates will be provided with access to the test upon providing proof of eligibility.

Do you provide mock tests before I take the actual exemption test?

No. The exemption test is not an exam, therefore we will not be providing any example questions or mock test.

What if I pass the Module 2 exemption test?

If you achieve 70% or over on the test, you will need to provide a copy of your downloadable exemption certificate to the Education and Training Department. They will check your pass mark and confirm if you are exempt. Once this has been done, you will be eligible to continue your development onto Module 3 of the Pathways (Arbitration, Adjudication and Mediation).
